One of winter's worst storms crippled the nation's midsection with a blanket of deep snow today.

The snowbelt extended from Texas to Michigan.

Icy streets in Wichita, Kan., were blamed for injuries to more than 60 persons — 20 of them in automobile accidents. Others were injured mainly in falls on slippery sidewalks.

Police said many more probably were injured but did not officially report the accidents.

Snow continued to fall throughout most of Illinois today and the Weather Bureau said Chicago and Springfield could look for a foot of snow by nightfall. Most schools in the Springfield area were closed as were many around Chicago. Many streets and highways were snow-packed and driving was hazardous.

Most other communities in the weather-weary Midwest also were under a layer of heavy snow.

Columbia, Mo., measured four inches of new snow in six hours to bring the ground total to eight inches. Most other cities from Missouri to Michigan also bore thick blankets of snow.

NEW YORK (AP) — The violence that flared in rival Negro Muslim groups in the past three days involved just two of more than a dozen organizations active in the secretive world of Negro extremism.

With the exception of Elijah Muhammad's Chicago-based Black Muslims, whose New York mosque was destroyed by an explosion and fire Tuesday, most groups of any strength have headquarters in New York.

Police in a number of major American cities indicate that extremist groups command allegiance from only a comparative handful of Negroes.

fuse to say much about themselves, it is almost impossible to get accurate membership figures. Four years ago the New York Times estimated that perhaps only 2,000 of this city's one million Negroes were members of extremist groups, compared with 25,000 dues-paying members of the NAACP. The proportion is believed to be considerably less in all other cities.

Yet officials agree that the influence of extremists can, in times of crisis like last summer's riots, be out of proportion to the number of persons involved.

CHICAGO (AP) — Police, alarmed by telephoned threats on the life of Black Muslim leader Elijah Muhammad, stepped up security plans today for the sect's convention in Chicago this weekend.

The calls to police came within a few hours of each other Tuesday. The first warned: "We have arrived. Muhammad will have to leave convention."

The second caller, who identified himself as John Henderson, said 100 men were coming to Chicago from New York to kill Muhammad. The caller also told police a bomb had been planted in the Coliseum, site of the convention which is expected to attract 6,000 Black Muslims.

Police said the caller indicated the bomb was timed to explode Friday or Saturday when Muhammad is scheduled to address the convention.

Telephoned bomb threats also harassed New York police and reinforcements were ordered into Harlem in an attempt to prevent further violence. Early Tuesday an explosion and fire, believed to have been set by avengers of Malcolm X, wrecked a four-story Muslim Mosque. Five firemen and one spectator were injured.

Tension mounted later when the funeral parlor housing the body of Malcolm X, the former Black Muslim leader who was assassinated Sunday in New York, was the victim of a false bomb threat. The body went on display a few hours later.

Police reported little progress in their investigation of Malcolm's slaying. Officials complained there was a barrier of silence among Malcolm's followers, members of the organization for the Afro-American unity. Malcolm was suspended from the Black Muslims 14 months ago.

The proportion is believed to be considerably less in all other cities.

Yet officials agree that the influence of extremists can, in times of crisis like last summer's riots, be out of proportion to the number of persons involved.

In New York City last summer, at least 17 black nationalist groups were members of a coordinating body called the African Nationalist Federated Council.

Most of these organizations were anti-white, and believed the American Negro could gain freedom only by linking his fate with that of rising African and Asian nations.

The groups are organized along varying lines. Some, like the various Muslim groups, are oriented toward religion. Others are primarily political. An example is Harlem's Progressive Labor Movement, headed by self-proclaimed Communist William Eton.

About half of the Negro extremists are believed to belong to the Black Muslims, properly known as the Lost-Found Nation of Islam. Formed in 1930, it preaches complete separation of blacks and whites.

Wiry, 67-year-old Elijah Muhammad, who has led the group since 1933, says the United States should turn over "several states" for an all-black nation.

The Muslims have claimed as many as 200,000 members. Other estimates put active membership as low as 5,500.

Stan Laurel

Dead of Heart

Attack at 74

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Stan Laurel, the little, rubber-faced partner of the late 300-pound Oliver Hardy in the movies' most successful comedy team, is dead of a heart attack at 74.

Victim of a stroke in 1955 and of diabetes in later years, he suffered the fatal seizure Tuesday in his bluff-top apartment overlooking the ocean. His fourth wife, Ida, was at his side.

Laurel and Hardy starred in 300 films, mostly two-and three-reelers, and made millions laugh. They were the 30s' slapstick kings and their films still are shown regularly on television and in theaters around the world.

Fans remember Laurel as the crop-haired, bungling yet lovable scamp, who, wearing a blank, stupid expression, inevitably brought disaster to his frazzled partner.

Their heyday was in films for the late producer Hal Roach. They made many pictures for him before moving in 1940 to 20th Century-Fox. They kept property rights to the old films so reaped no rewards when the later were shown on television. Laurel was married eight times to four women.

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — The Wisconsin Senate gave a 20-11 vote of approval today to a bill that would extend daylight saving time in the state from the last Sunday in September to the last Sunday in October.

The proposal now goes to the Assembly where concurrence would move it to the governor's desk.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said today that President Johnson must be allowed "as much flexibility as possible," in dealing with Viet Nam.

Mansfield, who has said that attempts to negotiate a settlement should not be brushed aside, told an informal news conference he does not agree with some of his colleagues that the President should make a report to the people at this time.

feels it is enough to point to the Senate-House resolution passed last August and to his own past statements, which have been couched in general phrases about helping the South Vietnamese defend their independence in the face of encroachment from the north.

The resolution, passed 414 to 0 in the House and 88 to 2 in the Senate, said:

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary-General U Thant disclosed today he had been engaged in private discussions for some time with the United States and other parties to the Viet Nam conflict and had made concrete proposals aimed at a negotiated settlement.

He declined to disclose the nature of his proposals, but told a news conference he was confident a formula could be found which would end the fighting and enable the United States to withdraw gracefully once stability has been achieved.

WESTERN WISCONSIN

Sheriffs, District Attorneys Form Unit

BUFFALO CITY, Wis. (Special) — The first meeting of what will become a district attorney and law enforcement agencies organization in this area was held at the Mississippi, Buffalo City, Monday.

It was called by District Attorney Roger Hartman and Sheriff Myron Hoch, Buffalo County.

Organized to promote mutual understanding between the two offices in the counties and better cooperation among counties, the organization will next meet April 20 at 4 p.m., probably at Clara's Cafe in Durand, Hoch, Pepin County Sheriff Roger Britton and Trempealeau County Sheriff Eugene Bijold were named to the program committee.

THE GROUP Monday heard a paper on new problems resulting from beer purchases by emancipated minors, prepared by District Attorney Karl Goethel, Durand; another on treatment of juveniles by District Attorney Donald Johnson, Whitehall, and saw a demonstration by Hoch and Hartman on the proper method of taking evidence.

Henry Zeichert, Buffalo City, discussed handling of firearms used by persons arrested. Judge Gary B. Schlosstein, Alma, discussed arrest and seizure. Goethel discussed the problem of youths crossing state lines and the rights of married minors or minors, living away from the parents, to purchase beer. He said there is no open bottle law in Wisconsin as in Minnesota.

THE LAW officers from Buffalo, Pepin and Trempealeau counties discussed three resolutions passed by the state district attorneys association at Milwaukee. One would favor establishing a school for police officers. Another favored the word "knives" in all statutes of the Criminal Code of Wisconsin which pertain to the use of dangerous weapons, because of the obvious increase in the use of knives in the commission of various types of crimes.

Another resolution urged repeal of Section 985.075 of the statutes regarding misdemeanor or appeals, permitting defendants opportunities to delay conviction by appealing to the Circuit Court and jamming up the Circuit Court calendars. The law officers were urged to secure all evidence of a crime immediately, lest it be lost, and to seal and deliver it immediately.

INVITATIONS will be extended to other organizations to join the group. Among the 21 attending besides those named were Deputy Sheriff C. E. Breen and Fred Glander Jr., police department, Alma; Charles Pehler, Fountain City chief of police; Everett Biles, Durand policeman; Maurice Scow and Milo Johnson, Trempealeau County traffic officers; Edward Kaiser, Arcadia chief of police.

Elliot Peterson and Stanley Apel, Buffalo County conservation wardens; Carl E. Jacobson, Cochrane marshal; Marcel Thoma, Mondovi police chief; John W. Marsolek, Bluff Siding, deputy sheriff; Vendor Steinke, Buffalo County clerk of court; Harold Kubisiak, Trempealeau conservation warden, and Robert L. Sing, Buffalo County traffic department.

BAPTIST 'ACTIVITY' TAMPA, Fla. — One of Tampa's busiest bowling centers the First Baptist Church, where 140 persons are involved in the bowling schedules.

The program is directed by Jimmy Lawrence, who directs such activities as basketball, volleyball, skating, gym exercises, skittle board and other games to attract members of the church and their friends.

Lawrence came to the Tampa church from a similar position at the First Baptist Church in Memphis, Tenn.

Reynolds Not Considered for Federal Judge

MILWAUKEE — A spokesman for Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., says the White House has related that President Johnson "was not interested" in appointing former Gov. John W. Reynolds as judge of the U.S. District Court for Western Wisconsin.

The Milwaukee Sentinel said today that Reynolds was no longer being considered and quoted sources close to Reynolds as stating he had been told he is out of the running for the vacant judgeship.

REYNOLDS, a Democrat who was defeated last November for a second term, answered, "No comment," when asked about the reports. The only other known candidate for the post is Madison attorney James Doyle, a former state Democratic chairman and the choice of some before President Kennedy nominated David Rabinovitz, a Sheboygan labor attorney, for the post.

RABINOVITZ served most of last year as the district's judge under an interim appointment. He was forced to step down when the Senate adjourned last fall without acting on his nomination by President Johnson. There has been word from the White House that Rabinovitz would not be reappointed.

Highway 248 Condemnation Being Heard

A county farmer detailed the damages he believes he will suffer as a result of a state highway condemnation proceeding today in District Court.

Paul J. Kronebusch, who farms 578 acres about two miles west of Rollingstone, said that a just compensation for the more than 22 acres of his land taken by the state for new construction on Highway 248 would be $8,800.

THE CONDEMNATION proceeding was begun last Sept. 21 with the appointment of three commissioners to evaluate the land to be taken. Their report, submitted Oct. 30, set the value of "parcel 4A" of Kronebusch's land at $6,428.

The state appealed the Kronebusch award Nov. 24, and Kronebusch appealed Dec. 7. The farmer set his $8,800 valuation at that time; the state claimed the land to be worth no more than $3,150.

A jury of six men and six women was chosen Tuesday to hear the case — one of seven arising from new Highway 248 construction. Jurors and court officers viewed parcel 4A late Tuesday afternoon.

ATTORNEY C. Stanley McMahon began the case for his client, Kronebusch, by calling S. C. Baldwin, a state highway engineer from St. Paul. Baldwin told the court what the state proposed to do with the three parts of parcel 4A.

More than 20 acres will remain under state ownership as part of the highway right of way. Nearly 2 acres will be used to straighten the channel of a creek on the Kronebusch land but will be available for Kronebusch's use when the straightening is completed.

Kronebusch next took the stand to describe the land being taken by the state and gave his opinion about the proper award of damages.

HE SAID THAT 12 acres to be taken from a cornfield should be valued at $500 an acre. The land produces about 1,250 bushels of corn in an average year, Kronebusch testified, and accounts for about $100 of his monthly income.

Four acres of pasture land is worth about $150 an acre. A "natural-built" corral which will be destroyed will cost $150 to replace, and new fencing will cost $900 in material and labor, Kronebusch estimated.

A relocated sewer line would cost him $350, the county farmer said. Finally, he noted that the right of way will cut his front yard in half, take nearly one-third of his garden and mean the loss of trees and shrubbery. This loss will be about $800, he told the court.

UNDER CROSS-examination by Special Assistant Attorney General Winston Ehmann, Kronebusch testified that he saw the probability of detriment to the creek on his property downstream from the channel straightening.

Kronebusch told Ehmann that the pasture land he estimated at $150 an acre had been in crops up to 1962 and is still good land.

The farmer admitted that there could be two estimates as to the exact number of tillable acres on his place. His estimate is 228, Kronebusch reiterated.

Judge Arnold Hatfield upheld objections to Ehmann's questions about the taking down of the trees Kronebusch had mentioned. The judge ruled that such questions are immaterial in that the state has the right to take down the trees whenever it sees fit.

Plaintiff Kronebusch plans to call one of the land commissioners and two independent appraisers to testify in his behalf. The state is expected to produce other appraisers.

Cold May Break Starting Friday

Continued cold tonight and Thursday but with a warming trend setting in Friday is the weather forecast for Winona and vicinity.

Although the temperature probably will dip to between zero and 10 below tonight, and not get much higher than 10 to 15 above Thursday, warmer weather moving on Southeastern Minnesota and Western Wisconsin will send the thermometer into the 27-32 daytime range over the weekend. Nighttime averages beginning Friday night will range from 6 to 13 above.

THE NEAR NORMAL temperature will prevail through Monday, the Weather Bureau said. Little or no precipitation is expected.

Applications for Home Inspections Being Accepted

Voluntary applications for home inspections under the city housing code are now being received at the department of health offices in City Hall, officials said today.

A number of persons already have requested the inspections, said Roy Vose, city sanitary and housing inspector, and these will be completed before a systematic program is begun.

Vose said these examinations will give experience to inspectors and will furnish data that will help set up routine procedures later. Lessons learned in the inspection of volunteers' homes will be studied to show where shortcuts can be made, whether some aspects should get more attention and others less, he said. If the need for changes shows up, the modifications can be made more easily now than later, Vose said.

Marine Mart Considers Move To Salet Building

In a special meeting Tuesday evening, the Board of Zoning Appeals ruled that a marine mart could be included in the list of permitted special uses for the former Salet building, 63 W. 3rd St.

The ruling was made at the request of Roy Evett, owner of Winona Motor Co., who said he plans to move his business to the 3rd Street location if all clearances can be obtained. The firm is now at 165 W. 2nd St.

Zoning Inspector George Rogge explained that because a conditional use ruling was not involved, advance public and private notices for the meeting were not required by the ordinance. The board was required only to determine whether the proposed use constitutes one similar to the specified permitted uses for the property. It is in a B-2 zone.

Board members voted unanimously to permit use, provided that the business meets performance standards set by the ordinance. These specify that the operation cannot be the source of excess noise, vibration or odor. Rogge said fire department inspectors have approved proposals for use of second-floor areas to test marine motors. Proper venting and noise-suppressing equipment would be employed, he told the board.

Evett said today his plans are incomplete and that he has not made a final choice of possible new locations.

FOR HIS HABITS, THAT IS

Legislators Go on Coon Hunt

ST. PAUL, Minn. — The Senate became a zoological society — of sorts — Monday when its 64 members spent 20 minutes debating the habits of procyon lotor, the raccoon.

It started innocently enough when Sen. John L. Olson, Worthington conservative, introduced a bill that would take the animal off the protected list and make it legal to hunt him throughout the year, using both lights and dogs.

IT SEEMED to be a non-controversial, but Sen. Lew Larson, Mabel conservative, immediately objected, asking that the "s" be struck from the word "raccoons" in the bill.

The temperature dropped to -2 overnight after reaching a high of 11 above Tuesday afternoon. At noon today the reading was 16.

A light snow, the edge of a giant storm moving across the Midwest, brushed Winona and vicinity early Tuesday evening, leaving a thin coating of snow on the area.

A year ago today the Winona high was 17 and the low 2. All-time high for Feb. 24 was 59 in 1931 and the low -18 in 1956. Mean for the past 24 hours was 5. Normal for this day is 21.

The cold wave brought unusually low readings to northern Minnesota where International Falls reported a low of -30. It was -28 at Duluth and -20 at St. Cloud. Rochester had a low of -6 after a Tuesday high of 6 above and La Crosse posted figures of -2 and 9 above for the same times. Minneapolis had a low of -4.

At Bismarck, N. D., the low was -15 while Rapid City, S. D., had a low of -4.

Considerable snow covered much of southeastern WISCONSIN today but residents were promised relief by nightfall.

The heaviest fall was in the Milwaukee and Racine areas where six inches were reported at 6 a.m., with another four inches in prospect before a let-up.

The Weather Bureau forecast colder weather in most of the state tonight.

Other snowfall amounts early today were 4 inches at Burlington, 3 at Beloit, and 1 at Madison, Lone Rock, La Crosse and Green Bay.

HIGH temperatures over the state Tuesday ranged from 8 at Green Bay to 26 at Racine.

The low temperature Tuesday night was 24 below zero at Hurley and Ironwood. Other low temperatures included Park Falls 14 below, Ashland 13 below, Rhinelander 12 below and Eau Claire 10 below.

THE HIGHEST temperature in the nation Tuesday was 86 at McAllen, Texas. The Wednesday morning low was 33 below zero at Huron, S. D.

Man's Best Friend Likes Money

DODGE, Wis. — If anybody saw Mrs. Roman Dorava, who lives three miles from here, buy the biggest steak in the meat market Monday, it was for her dog.

Mrs. Dorava related an almost unbelievable story to the Daily News classified department when she claimed a refund for a "lost" ad she didn't need.

It all started Sunday night, when Mrs. Dorava missed her purse after returning home. It contained, she thought, $68 in cash.

Late Monday, her husband entered the basement by way of the outside basement door. That was unusual because he seldom goes that way. He moved a rug that was tucked against the door — and found a small black purse under it. He picked it up and found it was Mrs. Dorava's "lost" purse, containing $73—not $68.

How did it get there? The only clue was the teeth marks of their 5-month-old collie, who apparently tried to get at the money herself before depositing the purse under the rug.

Mrs. Dorava claims no detective ability, but she makes this deduction: The collie found the purse, possibly in the garage, and, after playing with it, decided to stow it away for further enjoyment.

Mrs. Dorava ordered the ad late Monday for use on Tuesday, then happily canceled it with finding of the purse.

City to Take Bids on Root Cutting Project

Bids will be opened next month by the Park-Recreation Board on a citywide tree-root cutting project expected to take a year and a half to complete.

After hearing a committee report Monday, the board voted to contract the work rather than buy equipment and add new department personnel for a do-it-yourself project.

THE COMMITTEE, composed of Robert Steffen and Edward M. Allen, board members, and Bruce Reed, park and tree superintendent, was instructed at the January meeting to make its investigation. Widespread complaints that tree roots are displacing sidewalks prompted the department to study the problem.

Costs of the program were estimated at up to $17,000 at the January meeting. Experience on which to base figures admittedly is lacking, the board noted, and this could result in considerable variation in actual practice.

Allen and Steffen, reporting on committee conclusions, said bids on per-hour operation of root-cutting equipment should be sought. Board members, noting that $3,400 was put into the 1965-66 budget for a machine, speculated on whether the City Council might be willing to supply part of the contract cost from general funds.

Financing, which might employ department reserve funds if nothing else was available, could be determined later, Steffen suggested, after Dr. Rohrer advised a conference with the City Council before proceeding.

BIDS SHOULD be taken at the March meeting, Allen said, so the successful bidder could order a root-cutter and get spring delivery. Two prospective bidders, Henry Olson, Winona, and Earl Bunke, Rushford, were present. They said delivery would take about 60 days. Both apparently intend to bid and neither owns a root-cutter at present.

Bunke pointed out that capacity of the machine used would determine the hourly rate and that a smaller unit, commanding a lower rate, could be more expensive because it would take longer to do a given amount of work. Steve Sadowski's suggestion that machine size be specified by the board was adopted in the motion to advertise for bids.

Nodine Milk Purchases Gain

DAKOTA, Minn. (Special) — For the fourth consecutive year milk purchases increased nearly one million pounds at the Nodine Cooperative Creamery.

Milk sales for 1964 totaled $694,490. Grade A milk is trucked to Swift & Co., La Crosse.

Millard Chab, Winona, state dairy inspector, explained the need for eliminating substitutes of dairy products and discussed quality milk. Les Herried, Swift & Co., discussed "Mastitis and Its Problems."

The annual meeting held Friday had been postponed from Feb. 12 because of bad weather.

At the directors' meeting after the annual meeting Kenneth Albrecht was elected president for his 10th term. Arnold Zenke was elected vice president, and Garvin Sebo treasurer for his 13th term. Other directors are Everett Larson and Wayne Albrecht. Manager-buttermaker is Walter Rustad and bookkeeper Mrs. Harvey Allen.

School Bond Vote Expected April 5

It appeared virtually certain today that a referendum on the proposed $5.88 million Winona school bond issue will be held in conjunction with the April 5 general city election.

An amended bill making provision for the referendum was drafted Tuesday afternoon following rejection by the state Legislature's Senate committee on education of a bond authorization measure that did not include the referendum provision. Superintendent of Schools A. L. Nelson, one of a 12-member delegation that appeared before the Senate committee in support of the bill at a Tuesday morning hearing, said today that the Winonans had received informal assurance from the committee that it would approve the amended measure when it is introduced for hearing at another session Friday morning.

3 Bids Filed On 158 Trees For 3 Streets

Three bids for tree plantings on city boulevards were referred by the Park-Recreation Board to its professional staff Monday.

Apparent low bidder on a proposal to plant 158 trees on three city streets was the Valley Nursery, Goodview, at $1,075. Others bids were Westgate Gardens, $1,598, and Earl's Tree Service, Rushford, $2,315.50.

THE PLANTINGS are to be made this year on parts of Gilmore Avenue, Broadway and Mankato Avenue where trees were removed so streets could be widened. Specifications call for a variety of species, including ash, maples and lindens, at least 6 to 8 feet tall and branched. The Valley Nursery bid included substitution of Crispin King maples 8 to 10 feet tall and branched, which raised its bid from a basic $975 to $1,075.

Specifications permit substitution of equal quality, board members noted.

Board members also declined to purchase several pieces of equipment used by the Junior Chamber of Commerce to operate the Kiddieland section of Lake Park. The Jaycees said last week they will discontinue the amusement section because of lack of interest and revenue.

The board also is disinterested in continued operation. Equipment owned by the Jaycees includes a circular boat ride, small ferris wheel and a circular toy car ride.

THE BOARD owns four of five battery-operated cars which were run on a bituminous track at the park. Jaycees own the fifth car.

M. J. Bambenek, director of parks and recreation, said the cars will be sold for whatever they will bring. They are 5 years old and cost about $400 each, he said.

bill contemplates approval by the Senate committee Friday.

Nelson said that the amended bill has been written in such a way that the Legislature authorizes inclusion of the proposal on the April election ballot, waiving certain requirements for notice and other conditions stipulated for referendums.

Bonds issued, if the proposal is approved by the electorate this spring, would be used for construction of a new Senior High School and a building to house the Winona Area Vocational-Technical School.

Nelson said that members of the Senate committee expressed no opposition to the bond issue as such but were concerned mostly with the fact that the original bill made no provisions for a referendum.

THE ONLY opponent of the bill to appear at Tuesday's session was Don Ehmann, 980 W. 5th St., who in recent weeks had been active in circulation of petitions requesting a referendum on the bond issue, as well as for federally-assisted urban renewal and a home rule charter for Winona.

Ehmann submitted to the committee a petition he said contained signatures of about 1,200 Winonans who requested the referendums — the petition that had been brought before the Winona City Council earlier this month — and a supplementary petition with 700 names.

Ehmann observed that the second petition had not been checked completely by his group, Nelson said.

AT THE beginning of the hearing School Board President Lawrence Santelman; William Lang, president of the Winona Chamber of Commerce, and W. E. Morse, executive director of the Winona Industrial Development Association, began presentation of Winona's case for the building program.

The superintendent of schools said that at this point Senate committee members said that they were not questioning the need for new school facilities in Winona but wondered why the bond issue was not being put to a referendum.

Nelson and City Attorney George M. Robertson Jr. then explained that historically Winona's bond issues have been made by legislative authorization and that an urgent time factor in the building program was one of the considerations in requesting direct approval of the Legislature.

One committee member, Karl F. Grittner, St. Paul, moved for approval of the original bill without provision for the referendum but received only a sprinkling of votes.

THE WINONA group then was told that the committee would not approve the bill as it stood but that it would take up the matter again — and probably give quick approval — if an amendment for a referendum were to be incorporated.

Nelson spent Tuesday afternoon in Minneapolis with Arthur Whitney of the legal firm of Dorsey, Owen, Marquart, Windhorst & West, bond approving attorneys for the Winona bond issue, in the preparation of a draft of the amended bill which will be sponsored by Winona County Sen. Roger Laufenburger, Lewiston, who introduced the original bill in the Senate early in the session.

The superintendent said that if the bond proposal advances as anticipated it should pass both houses of the Legislature within the next three weeks or so.

HE ALSO reported on another measure introduced at the request of the Winona special school district.

This provides for a changing of the district's fiscal year from April 1 to March 31 to July 1 to June 30.

This bill has been approved by both houses.

City to Make Sure It Won't Lose Its Land

Still smarting over loss of 40 acres of Wisconsin land, the Park-Recreation Board Monday voted to firm up its title to some 1,100 acres of Agaghaming Park land and prevent similar incidents in the future.

Last year R. J. Wiczeorek, a Bluff Siding, Wis., resident claimed title to 40 acres of river bottom land just north of the Winona Boat Club dockage. The claim was on the basis of adverse possession and was held to be justified since the claimant had exercised rights of ownership — including payment of taxes — in the absence of such exercise by the city.

A letter from City Attorney George M. Robertson Jr. advised the board that the 40 acres probably was beyond recall. Robertson outlined actions the board should take to prevent any further loss. Abstracts should be acquired, he wrote, ownership established, and a map made of the area. A permanent file of this material should be made and recorded and one board member given responsibility for protecting possession of the lands, Robertson advised. Costs would probably exceed $1,000, he predicted.

Board members voted to ask the city attorney to designate an assistant for the project. A previous motion, adopted last month, authorized expenditure of $1,000 for such purposes. The attorney will be asked to make a preliminary report at the board's March meeting.

No One Hurt in Car-Bus Crash

A car-bus collision today at 9:15 a.m. at 3rd and Franklin streets caused $350 damage to the vehicles, but no one was injured.

A two-car collision Tuesday at 2:20 p.m. caused $745 damage to the vehicles. Again, no injuries resulted.

The car-bus collision occurred as Clifford R. Thompson, 3rd and William J. Christenson, Minneapolis, was driving a Jefferson Lines bus north on Franklin.

Patrolman Roy C. Nelson cited Thompson with a traffic signal violation in connection with the collision. Damage was $250 to the left front of the car and about $100 to the right side of the bus.

The Tuesday collision occurred at Broadway and Cummings Street. Leon W. Nesbitt, 21, 1760 Kraemer Dr. was driving east on Broadway; Valentine Modjeski, 972 E. Broadway, was driving north on Cummings.

Damage was estimated at $500 to the front of the Nesbitt car and $245 to the left front of the Modjeski vehicle. Patrolman Willis H. Wogan investigated.

The youths have been turned over to juvenile court authorities for disposition of their cases. Whether restitution is made is up to the juvenile authorities, Chief McCabe said.

U.S. Humor Gets Wilder, Wilder

NEW YORK — It's a Smile World... Today's humor gets wilder and wilder... Ex-FCC Chairman Newton M. Minow told the local Emmy Awards Committee "I'm the first Jewish trustee of Notre Dame. I go to my first meeting in May and I may be thrown out — when I propose that Notre Dame abandon playing football on the Jewish Sabbath."

Jack E. Leonard claims, at Basin Street, that Lady Bird's such a fussy housekeeper, she puts a newspaper under the cuckoo clock... and that things were so rough in Chicago when he was a boy that a cop once sidled up and said, "Wanta buy a patrol car?"

At this "Navel Academy," they've also got a variety show with lovely Sheila O'Sullivan, Paula Wayne's understudy in "Golden Boy," singing. She's a true find!

St. Mary's 'Rivals'

An Entertaining Romp

By GEORGE McCORMICK

Daily News Staff Writer

St. Mary's College's production of "The Rivals" is great fun.

There is more to be said for it, of course, but that really sums it up. Director Norman Delue's company makes it a delightfully entertaining romp from start to finish.

THE CAST is led by Dianne Wrocklage's superb Mrs. Malaprop and Terrence Truhler's bluff and hearty Sir Anthony Absolute. Miss Wrocklage's opening night performance Tuesday was a gem of understatement that still brought out every one of Sheridan's "malapropisms."

Truhler shouted and stomped and worked his facial muscles, but he seldom exceeded the admittedly broad bounds set by the playwright. He remained a human being despite the Restoration gloss.

Mary Biesanz made Lydia Languish every bit as pretty and pettish as she is supposed to be, and she even kept her accent within bounds, having wisely concentrated more on sounding like a wilful and romantic 17-year-old than an 18th century British girl.

Patrick McHugh's Bob Acres might not have been quite the bumptious Sheridan intended, but he was a silly fellow nonetheless, and was a great audience favorite. Another favorite was William Peltzman's Sir Lucius O'Trigger, another who kept his accent within bounds and concentrated, to good effect, on the character.

THE SUPPORTING cast was strong, particularly Mary Ann Okray as the conniving maid Lucy. Others were John Wiater as Fag, Terrence Kendor as the coachman, Michael Mecaskey as David and Lawrence Basile, briefly, as an errand boy.

There were few things at which to quibble. One might be, however, that Mrs. Malaprop hit others on the head with her fan a bit more than was necessary. It became a stock trick to get easy laughs, but the laughs were coming without it.

Sir Lucius pulled out his pocket flask more than was needed. The only time it was anything but an unnecessary distraction was at the beginning of Act II, when Sir Lucius goads Acres into a duel with the ephemerally Beverly.

Some of the minor characters, Fag particularly, talked to the audience, rather than to each other, when the lines clearly constituted a face-to-face conversation. This was not necessary to achieve rapport with the audience in a room as small as the student union's second lounge.

MONA McMAHON's costumes are nicely in character, and the set — designed by Basile, Roger Budney and Donald Kelley — is elegant but simple and highly functional.

Even the programs add a nice touch. They are fan-shaped — most appropriate for a Restoration comedy, and very useful in the small, close lounge.

The play continues through Monday, with all performances at 8 p.m. except Sunday's, which begins at 7:30 p.m. It is well worth seeing, for it is a rollicking good show.

Cochrane-FC High School Concert Tonight

COCHRANE-FC, Wis. — The mixed chorus, soloists and the concert band will be heard in Cochrane-Fountain City High School's annual winter concert at 8:15 p.m. today in the school auditorium.

Mrs. John Duell is vocal instructor, and Emil Guenther is instrumental music teacher.

"Thanks Be to Thee" by Handel, "Sanctus and Hosanna" by Haydn, "Pilgrims' Chorus" from Wagner's "Tannhauser" and the popular "Charade" will be heard in the chorus' section of the program.

Other chorus selections will be "This Is My Country," "Jacobs," and "My Shepherd Will Supply My Need," Watts.

Accompanists are Susan Fried and Ruth Eikarp. Sheila Fleming will sing Enders' "Travlin'" and Ruth Eikarp

Wide Variety In Recital

By Bass Tonight

Oratorio classics, arias, American folk and art songs and a group of compositions by the late Cole Porter will be heard in John West's recital here tonight.

The young American bass will be heard in Winona State College's Somsen Hall auditorium at 8 p.m. The program is open to the public, and there will be no admission charge.

WEST COMES to Winona, brought here by the college's assembly committee, after a successful season with the San Francisco opera company both in its home city and in Los Angeles, with the Fort Worth opera company and with the Chicago Symphony.

The singer grew up on a Pennsylvania farm, studied piano at an early age and played French horn in his school's band. He played horn so well that he was offered a scholarship at Eastman School of Music, Rochester, N. Y.

At the end of his second year in college, however, he switched his attention to study of voice, and was graduated from Curtis Institute in Philadelphia.

HE WAS A finalist in the 1962 Metropolitan Opera auditions, and he sang leading bass roles in the Met's studio productions of "Così fan Tutti" and "Barber of Seville."

Although he has been singing professionally less than two years, he has sung with more than a dozen opera companies and a score of symphony orchestras.

kamp will sing "I Talked to God Last Night," Guion.

The band's selections will include "Processional March" from Wagner's "Die Meistersinger," ballet music from Borodin's "Prince Igor" and "A Mozart Festival," which includes themes from some of the composer's major works.

Other band selections are Grundman's "Kentucky 1800," "Caneva's "Salute to Victor Herbert" (march), Stuart's "Winter Carnival" and highlights from Wilson's "The Unsinkable Molly Brown."

Beecher said, "The soul without imagination is what an observatory would be without a telescope." The book of old puts it this way, "Without a vision, the people perish." The question is, what's on your horizon?

Life holds out to each person of accountability a variety of propositions. The short range or immediate opportunity is education for the young, a job for the adult, or advanced education in some cases, for the young adult in particular. But life also holds forth a future. What one does with this future is an individual matter.

Some choose to let it slip by with no particular design on it... No purpose in it, and at age 65, retire on their social security, content that they never got the breaks and consequently, they couldn't have done a thing to change their course.

MAY I SUGGEST that the future can be developed by plan — your plan; that the future can be molded, but that it's made of sturdy stuff and it takes some real effort on the part of the individual. But the future can be molded by choice and purpose.

You see, the imagination is the workshop of the mind, and what the mind can conceive and truly believe, it can accomplish. But, you must let the imagination work, for out of the imagination comes ideas, desire and plans. Plans that paint pictures in the mind, of the finished product. Those that materialize their plans and pursue them to completion, are shaping their future and satisfaction is sweet.

"Without a vision the people perish," is true both spiritually and physically. What vision do you possess? If it's a worthy vision, develop a plan and press to the mark. I can well imagine man long before the airplane, or even the balloon, lying on his back looking into the sky as the birds would glide by, fluttering their wings, and then soaring again. "What would it be like to fly?" man must have said. "Looks fun. Look at those birds — they don't have to forge streams or climb long mountain passes. They just fly over them."

NOW WATCH the imagination develop. "I wonder," man must have said, "if there is a means by which I could fly?" Remember now — what the mind can conceive and truly believe, it can accomplish. All that was necessary, was to hit on the idea and man was off in a great adventure — that of flying.

Now I question that your imagination is any more far-fetched than that of those pioneers who dared to believe that man could make like a bird. Develop your future by developing your imagination. See beyond the immediate through your dreams, and then work to bring them into reality. One thing, the imagination is not limited to any one subject. It will move in any direction you, its owner, will direct it.

How about you, dear reader. Where will you be five, ten, 20 years from now? Think about it. For a fact, the future can be a wonderful experience. Can you imagine that?

NASON ON EDUCATION

Smaller Classes, Better Students

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed.D.

University of S. Calif.

Smaller classes actually save money!

Class size is found to be the most potent factor influencing student achievement.

A California Legislative Subcommittee, conducting a two-year study on how schools spend their money, found that pupils in districts with smaller classes and more classroom teachers than average, stand higher on achievement tests.

They found no relation between the number of consultants, coordinators, counselors and/or administrators and student achievement!

Their findings were based on results of statewide pupil-achievement tests. Their investigation covered a wide range of school organizations as California has 1,500 school districts.

How these schools spend their money and what they get for it is important to legislators since California schools receive $1 billion annually from the state.

THE expenditure of money for non-teaching personnel can be justified only if it results in higher achievement of pupils. It is heartening that the state legislature is turning its attention to the measurement of education in these terms.

The investigation of money spent in relation to educational performance reveals startling discrepancies at all levels of the school system. When non-teaching personnel gets out of balance with the number of teachers at either elementary or high school levels, classes become too large for effective teaching.

College costs measured in terms of educational effectiveness ness reveal just as serious misuse of money.

For example, a freshman girl with an all "A" high school record, withdrew from two of her five classes in a junior college shortly after mid-semester.

As the semester drew to a close, these two classes, which started with close to 40 students each, had been reduced to eight and 12 students respectively. Evidently the all "A" student was not the only one who was unable to master the work under these instructors.

THE COST to the taxpayers of education in a California junior college ranges from $500 to $600 per student per year. This is measured on a basis of students in attendance, not those who complete courses successfully.

In the classes cited, the cost in terms of successful education was at an approximate rate of $2,000 per student.

The all "A" high school student not only had innate ability, but was eager to succeed. The fault rests with the college.

Administrators should be able to see not only that capable high school students are counseled into courses appropriate to their background and goals, but that the teachers assigned to beginning classes are capable of leading students to successful completion of the courses.

The waste in public funds, great as it is, is not so serious as the waste in human resources. When 30 students who have been counseled to take a given course fail to succeed, the resultant frustration affects at least 30 homes.

Such waste could be stopped!

*LIMITED TO LEGAL AXLE WEIGHTS

Proposed 1965 spring road restrictions have been announced by the Minnesota Department of Highways and will be placed in effect in advance by bulletins. The bulletins will give the date the restrictions will become effective, and will describe axle weight limits different from those shown on the map the department has just issued. Unless a section of trunk highway is specifically mentioned in the bulletin, the limit will be shown on the map. As in the past, restrictions will be placed in effect by zones, with the first ones probably affecting Zone 1 next week. Unusual conditions, however, might necessitate some deviations from zone lines. Zone 1 extends from the south state line northward to and including Trunk Highway 14. Zone 2 extends from TH 14 northward to and including TH 12, which runs through the Twin Cities westward to Onitona. Zones 3, 4, 5 and 6 are north of the Twin Cities and are usually the last to be effected by spring load limits. The restrictions are based on gross axle weights, including weights of both the vehicle and the load it carries. Signs erected along highways will govern the restrictions and their effective dates. As long as the sign remains in place, restrictions are in effect, the department pointed out.

Extra Time Sought for Taxpayers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pressures are mounting in Congress to help taxpayers owing Uncle Sam more than was withheld from their wages even though the Treasury says their plight has been exaggerated.

Several bills have been introduced to allow extra time, beyond the legally fixed April 15, for such deficiencies to be made up.

The House Ways and Means Committee, which handles such legislation, said no hearings have been set on any of these. However, it was understood the committee was informally checking to see whether the situation might call for action next month, after work on President Johnson's health-care bill is completed.

Appearing before another committee Monday, Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon said technicians of his department believe the underwithholding may total $400 million to $500 million, in contrast with earlier guesses of more than twice these figures.

Dillon said he does not think this indebtedness is a threat to the still-rising economy or a serious hardship to many persons.

There is a certain amount of underwithholding every year because the pay-check deductions are based on a flat percentage while income tax rates increase as an individual's income rises. Last year special circumstances resulted in still more.

WINONA DELEGATION PRESENT

Welcome Freking At La Crosse

LA CROSSE, Wis. (AP) — A host of church and public officials gathered today for the installation of the Most Rev. F. W. Freking as bishop of the La Crosse Roman Catholic Diocese.

The bishop arrived Tuesday from Salina, Kan., and was greeted by hundreds of friends from an earlier assignment at nearby Winona, Minn. He is a native of Heron Lake, Minn.

Bishop Freking knelt on the snowy sidewalk for a moment of prayer before entering the Cathedral of St. Joseph the Workman, the setting for today's installation ceremony.

At the cathedral rites, Archbishop William E. Cousins of Milwaukee and metropolitan of the Wisconsin Province, was the installing prelate. Four other archbishops, 35 bishops and about 700 other clergy participated in the Mass.

The Apostolic Mandate was to be read in English for the first time.

Gov. Warren P. Knowles headed a list of invited guests at a reception and banquet following the installation.

Bishop Freking was accompanied to La Crosse by about 50 members of the Salina diocese. He took time from scheduled events to greet scores of persons he had known from his Winona assignment.

He told the crowd he regarded his assignment as a mission and said he was "grateful, happy and pleased." He then traveled in a motorcade through the city, where about 1,500 parochial school children lined the streets in welcome.

Bishop Freking succeeds the late Bishop John P. Treacy.

Paper Praises Record Of Emmons Roettiger

(Editor's Note: Emmons L. Roettiger was born at Fountain City, Wis., son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Fred Roettiger. His father was a partner in the H & F Roettiger Co., Fountain City.)

He has two brothers, Reuben, with the state Highway Commission at La Crosse, and Rob Roy, retired and living at the Cochrane Rest Home. Dr. Norman Roettiger, Winona veterinarian, and Warren Roettiger, Fountain City, head of the lumber company, are his cousins.)

AFTER NEARLY 45 years of uninterrupted service in the engineering division of the State Highway Department, Emmons L. Roettiger, for the last 30 years its chief engineer, has announced his forthcoming retirement.

For any Wisconsin highway user of middle age or above who has observed the evolution of the public road system during the last three or four decades this is a nostalgic event. For the head of the Highway Commission's production staff has recorded a career that almost precisely matches the history of the state highway system in the state. To a considerable degree the achievements of the Highway Commission are Mr. Roettiger's achievements, if they can be attributed to any single leader. Highway commissioners come and go, in the nature of the political system. It is said that there have been 15 of them since his own assumption of the responsibilities as chief of staff of the engineering division in 1935.

IT SEEMS quite likely that this faithful civil servant has built more roads than anyone else in the country. Surely there is nobody in the annals of Wisconsin who has approached his record of productive service, and thus it can truly be said that he was "Mr. Highways" of his time.

The Roettiger career is a reminder of another significant fact of his life. In one of the most sensitive and conspicuous spots to which a state career man can be assigned, he has survived without any hint of political hazard to his tenure of which we are aware.

It was only in 1963, the Highway Commission's information release reminds us, that the legislature got around to putting his job within the jurisdiction of the Civil Service Administration, which meant that he had formal job tenure and could not be removed except for stated cause after a hearing and public review.

WE DON'T recollect the reasons for that statutory amendment. Perhaps they related to the prospective problem of recruitment after Mr. Roettiger's retirement which then was foreseen. Obviously he didn't need such job protection. He had worked in his strategic and responsible office during a long and productive period, under administrations of Republican and Progressive and Democratic coloring, without any evident threat to his authority or security.

HIS CAREER is a tribute to the enduring support of the people of Wisconsin for professional civil servants in professional civil service seats. We have no doubt that the present commission would be happy to extend his employment, as the retirement law permits, except that he has chosen to guard his health by a relinquishment of his work. — Green Bay Press-Gazette.

Mankato 'U' Bill 'Ill-Conceived Proposal'

A BILL TO GRANT Mankato State College a university status is being pushed with some vigor in the state legislature, and proponents contend it has "tremendous support," which we doubt. We do not at this point believe there is need for a second state university from an educational standpoint, and we do not believe Minnesota is in any financial position to support one.

So far as we can observe, the Mankato University project seems less a solution to fancied educational problems, than a concerted drive to give Mankato the "prestige" of being a university town.

Advocates of the bill have pointed out the creation of a Mankato University could be achieved with only about $50,000 to start with, which on the face of it is a ludicrous claim. The sum of $50,000 would hardly equip one modern science laboratory. To establish, construct and staff a second major university would require many millions of dollars to get it in operation, and added many millions each year after that to maintain it. We do not believe Minnesota can stand that kind of educational luxury when the state is presently scratching the bottom of the financial barrel to support the schools and colleges we presently have.

WE HAVE CONFIDENCE our legislators will show more mature judgment than to be duped in to support for this present ill-conceived proposal. — St. Cloud Times.

THE WORLD TODAY

Justice Served For 23 Years

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — For 23 years Felix Frankfurter was a completely dedicated justice of the Supreme Court.

He stuck rigidly to what he called judicial restraint at a time when the court under Chief Justice Earl Warren was moving toward a greater participation in American problems and a willingness to assume responsibility in solving them.

Frankfurter, who died Monday at 82, urged deference to the wishes of Congress and state legislatures, on the theory the people eventually would pressure them into doing what was needed, even though they had avoided what was needed for years.

TWO VIEWS. Frankfurter's and Warren's, and two opposition positions of these men tell the story:

In 1962 the court ruled, 6 to 2, that apportionment of seats in state legislatures to give voters a fairer representation was subject to the scrutiny of federal courts.

For over half a century some legislatures had declined to reapportion themselves even through their state constitutions called for such action every 10 years.

Back in the 1940s Frankfurter had urged the court to stay out of such a "political thicket," and when it did step in in 1962, still opposing it, he said: "In a democratic society like ours, relief must come through an aroused popular conscience that sears the conscience of the people's representatives."

THIS IGNORED the reality that in some situations politicians in power can ignore the people.

Warren, who was with the majority in calling for reapportionment, had given an answer to Frankfurter's kind of reasoning in an article in Fortune magazine in 1955:

"Our judges are not monks or scientists but participants in the living stream of our national life, steering the law between the dangers of rigidity on the one hand and of formlessness on the other."

"Our system faces no theoretical dilemma but a single continuous problem: How to apply to ever changing conditions the never changing principles of freedom."

IT WAS THE greatest irony of Frankfurter's life that when President Franklin D. Roosevelt put him on the court in the New Deal days of 1939 he was not only a hero to liberals but was denounced as a Red by the far right.

By the time he left the court 2½ years ago, liberals looked upon him as a conservative, and he was when compared with some of the other justices.

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Activities Link KKK, Muslims, Communists

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — A fantastic alliance of Ku Klux Klansmen, Black Muslims, and Communists, representing both extremes of the civil rights struggle, has been stirring up racial conflict in America apparently for the sheer sake of chaos.

There is no evidence of a formal pact between these fanatics. Yet this column has uncovered some strange Communist - Klan-Muslim links which suggest at least a unity of purpose.

Consider the curious clients of James Venable, a fleshy, flush-faced Atlanta attorney, who has represented both the Negro-hating Klan and the white-hating Muslims.

Pr. sumably his first loyalty is to the United Klans, his principal client, which is now trying to bring all the splintered, factional Klans under the same hood, so to speak. But neither apparently has complained about any conflict of interest.

In matters of violence, Venable believes in lynching Negroes and whites alike without discrimination. "The time has come," he recently declared, "to hang a few people, both white and black, to let them know the Ku Klux Klan means business."

VENABLE'S former roommate and the United Klans' hired propagandist, Wally Butterworth, is even more outspoken.

He recently wrote: "Even if a Communist Congress passes 50 civil rights bills, every Klan member—male and female, will die fighting before those Washington traitors can enslave the white race."

Remarkably similar sentiments from the Negro side were heard last summer at a Harlem rally. Jesse Willard Gray, an ex-Communist, screamed from the soapbox that he wanted "100 skilled, black revolutionists who are ready to die."

"Only guerrilla warfare," he roared, "can stop the police brutality situation in Harlem."

Called into court to explain his statement after the Harlem race riots, Gray claimed his call for 100 skilled men was intended to raise manpower to improve social conditions in Harlem. But other witnesses swore they heard him right the first time.

Gray was an organizer for the Communist party between 1950-58. He claims no longer to be a member, though he still associates with known Communists.

MORE RECENTLY, Gray has been identified as one of the plotters in the organization of Afro-American Unity, which is seeking to foment a black revolution in this country "by any means necessary," including arming Negroes.

Significantly, the organization was headed by none other than the late Malcolm X, the celebrated Black Muslim, who quit the movement last year after an angry falling-out with Muslim Elijah Muhammad.

Other similarities have turned up in the purposes and practices of Communists, Muslims, and Klansmen.

All three groups use terror tactics. The Ku Klux Klan and Black Muslims, for example, have formed similar goon squads which carry out acts of violence and vengeance. Both have also adopted the Communist techniques of threat and intimidation.

All three movements also use front groups. Venable, for instance, heads a Klan front known as the Defensive Legion or registered Americans, Inc. The Muslims have also started to form Communist-style front organizations.

EVEN THEIR language is sometimes similar. Both the Reds and the Muslims, for example, refer contemptuously to their enemies as "bourgeois."

But most of all, the Communists, Muslims, and Klansmen are spreading a similar doctrine of hate, undermining the faith of citizens in their country and turning American against American.

Pugnacious, 82-year-old Rep. Barratt O'Hara, D.-Ill., angry over his hotel bill, slapped John J. Hyland, manager of the Congressional Hotel, in the face the other day. The hotel man, verbally turning the other cheek, told this column: "O'Hara is one of the greatest guys on Capitol Hill."

President Johnson has been entertaining friends with his mimicry of correspondents asking him questions at press conferences.

The President is preparing to replace his military aide Maj. Gen. Ted Clifton. The job will go to Col. William Jackson, who served as Johnson's military aide while he was vice president.

Another addition to the White House staff will be dynamic, 27-year-old Ken Rosen of New York City, a political protégé of Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind. . . . Federal officials are working quietly with Negro leaders to step up the voter registration drive in the South. Negroes are planning a registration drive in Philadelphia, Miss., where three civil rights workers were murdered last summer.

As another dramatic gesture, the Negro tenants on Lady Bird Johnson's Alabama farm will attempt to register. It will be interesting to see whether Alabama authorities will interfere with the voting rights of the first lady's tenants.

One of Nationalist China's Intelligence chiefs, a mysterious figure named Chen, has disappeared behind the bamboo curtain with vital files, including the names of hundreds of anti-Communist agents inside Red China. Chen's wife and two children were the first to vanish. Then Chen, after running up some big gambling debts in Macao, followed them into Red China.

BEST YEAR YET

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Starlight Theater reports a record profit of $75,000 from outdoor stage presentations last summer. The net exceeded any previous take during the 14 years of operation.

During the 11-week season attendance totaled 455,000 and the box office gross was $951,267. The organization plans to use profits for improvement of facilities and installation of a new lighting system.

Will the Voice of the Rural Area Be Stilled?
To the Editor:

Will the voice of the rural area be stilled?

One of the most important issues concerning our small towns and cities, as well as the farmers in the United States, is now before our legislatures.

The Supreme Court's decision that all state legislatures, the upper houses as well as the lower houses, must be appointed solely on the basis of population, if allowed to stand will have the big center of population completely dominating state government at the expense of our rural areas and our rural people.

What a terrific slap in the face of our people in our small towns and our rural area when we heard that our Winona County senator, a man that lives in a small town and raised in the rural area, had put his support behind the bill S.F. 679 along with Senator Perpich, liberal from Hibbing and Senator Adams, liberal from Minneapolis to do this very thing. A similar bill H.F. 726 was introduced in the house by Rep. Smaby, liberal of Minneapolis; Rep. O'Dea, liberal of Mahanomi; Rep. Quirin, liberal of Rochester; Rep. Lindahl, liberal of St. Paul, and Rep. Nordin, liberal of Sodererville.

This bill, which is the plan developed by the governor's Reapportionment Commission, would give the Twin Cities metropolitan area five more senators and 11 more representatives, therefore taking the same number away from the rural area. Senator Laufenburger defended his action by stating that Winona County would not lose any of its legislators and he believed the majority should rule. If a simple majority were (always) right, there would be no problem letting it vote its way immediately on everything.

A majority once knew the world was flat.

A majority also opposed the American revolution.

A majority was once sure man would never fly. Also iron ships could never float.

I would like to ask our senator how he would like to see the United Nations run on the basis of a majority of population.

We all know that government should be represented by people, but government without resources and area for taxing base is of very little value.

Therefore, we believe that geographic areas must be considered when selecting our governing bodies.

In a speech to the American Farm Bureau Federation, Sen. George D. Aiken of Vermont pointed out that the battle on legislative reapportionment is not between the people of urban areas and those of small towns, cities and rural areas, but a struggle between the powerful political machines of the great cities, and the people of the United States.

He also said, "Make no mistake about it, this is a battle for the political control of the nation, and with that control goes the power to tax, the power to spend, the power to enact programs which will affect the lives and welfare of every living person in this country for generations to come."

Farm Bureau members are now supporting a vigorous program to modify the court's ruling through the adoption of a constitutional amendment.

The proposed amendment would permit members of one — "but not both" — of the houses of a bicameral state legislature to represent districts established with consideration to factors other than population.

The first bill introduced in the Senate this year S.F. 1, if passed, is our last hope of reversing the U.S. Supreme Court decision which forces reapportionment of state legislatures on a population basis.

This bill calls for an application to Congress calling for a U.S. constitutional amendment allowing one house of a state legislature to be apportioned on basis other than population.

The companion bill to this, H.F. 2, was also introduced in the House. We in Farm Bureau are urging each and every one to write, telephone or talk to all of our state senators and legislators on this very important issue, asking them to support S.F. 1 and H.F. 2. Write their name and Capitol Building St. Paul, Minn. Our U.S. Congress must act on this matter if two-thirds of our state legislatures pass a bill of this kind.

Ten states already have done this and eight more states have this done in one house of their legislature.

So let your voice be heard on this very important issue.

Answers To Your Questions

Dear Dr. Molner: I am 45 and going through the change of life. My husband seems to think this affects a woman's sanity. Is he right? — MRS. B. E.

Of course there's nothing to that idea, and if he would stop and think for a moment he would realize how ridiculous it is. Jitters, nerves, depression sometimes are a passing problem, but that is quite another thing. I suggest you read, "Make Menopause Easier," a booklet I have written on the whole subject. (A copy is available in return for 25 cents in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope. Send requests to Dr. Molner in care of this newspaper.)

Dear Dr. Molner: I plan to have cosmetic surgery on my overgrown nose. This is a small city with only two plastic surgeons. How can I be sure they are reputable men before I get involved, and what do you think of cosmetic surgery? — MRS. C.

First ask your regular physician to advise you. He can determine (if he doesn't already know) whether the surgeons have been certified by the national specialty board.

What do I think about cosmetic surgery? If it is really needed, there is no substitute for it.

Dear Dr. Molner: When a man has three dark hair spots in his head but is otherwise blond, could he have two fathers? This is an important question for me. — M.L.S.

No, it is physiologically impossible. Once an ovum has been fertilized, it rejects any further sperm. True, it can develop twins, but that is a different matter. A seed planted in the ground can sprout only once — even though some plants may have more than one stalk. There's your answer. You can stop worrying now.

FIRST FARM BUREAU PICNIC . . . An estimated 10,000 persons attended the first annual Farm Bureau picnic held at Farmer's Community Park, midway between Stockton and Lewiston on U. S. Highway 14, in 1923. There were no buildings or bridges in the park at that time and there were few places to sit. Since there was no caretaker, the grass was not cut and people found their way about as best they could. Canvas tents were erected for the day. Refreshments were served, games and contests held and speakers heard. Model T-Ford cars were parked way out to the entrance of the park. Nearly everyone in Winona County attended. Business places in surrounding towns were locked the day of this big occasion. (Contributed by Theodore Benicke, Stockton)

'Polka-Dot' Glider Sought

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Search craft combed a section of Atlantic Ocean near the equator today for a polka-dot space glider that disappeared after a scorching suborbital flight.

The six-foot, 1,175-pound glider rode a Thor-Delta rocket into space at 9:36 a.m. Tuesday. The winged research craft soared to an altitude of 39 miles and then plunged back through the atmosphere's heat barrier at a peak speed of 13,300 miles per hour.

A parachute lowered the craft into the Atlantic about 2,750 miles southeast of Cape Kennedy.

Russians Planning New Space Flight

MOSCOW (AP) — Rumors circulated in Moscow today that the Soviet Union will soon put men into space again. There was no confirmation.

Home for Aged 'Mary Poppins' Burns, 15 Dead Runs Off With Nominations

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — Firemen searched the smoking ruins of a home for the aged today, seeking the remains of 15 persons believed to have died when flames swept the two-story brick and stone building about 1 a.m.

Six of the 21 persons believed to have been inside the building were rescued. They suffered burns. A nurse and a maid were reported among those trapped.

Flames prevented firemen from entering the 50-year-old building. Four firemen suffered burns and one was seriously injured when a beam crashed down on his head.

St. Charles Co-op Sets Special Meeting

ST. CHARLES, Minn. — A special meeting for the board of directors of the St. Charles Cooperative Creamery will be at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Legion Hall here. Members will vote on enlarging the fertilizer operation by building a blending plant. Lunch will be served.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Nominations for the 37th annual Academy Awards — led by "Mary Poppins" and its star Julie Andrews — present a paradox this year: An actress who didn't get named is causing more talk than those who did.

"Mary Poppins" got 13 nominations, including Julie's as best actress. "My Fair Lady" and "Becket" followed, with 12 each. But Audrey Hepburn, who rated critical raves in "My Fair Lady," was ignored entirely by academy members Tuesday.

Even though "Mary Poppins" is her first movie, Julie too knows how it feels to be shut out. She created "My Fair Lady" on Broadway, yet she wasn't in the running for the movie version.

Other nominees for best actress were Kim Stanley, "Seance on a Wet Afternoon"; Sophia Loren, "Marriage Italian Style"; Debbie Reynolds, "The Unsinkable Molly Brown"; and Anne Bancroft, "The Pumpkin Eater."

The nominees for best actor, decidedly British in accent, were: Peter Sellers, "Dr. Strangelove"; Peter O'Toole, "Becket"; Richard Burton, "Becket"; Rex Harrison, "My Fair Lady"; and the only non-Britisher, Anthony Quinn, "Zorba the Greek."

Best supporting actress nominees were: Gladys Cooper, "My Fair Lady"; Edith Evans, "The Chalk Garden"; Grayson Hall, "The Night of the Iguana"; Lila Kedrova, "Zorba the Greek"; and Agnes Moorehead, "Hush... Hush, Sweet Charlotte."

Best picture nominations were: "Becket," "Dr. Strangelove," "Mary Poppins," "My Fair Lady," and "Zorba the Greek."

The Oscars will be handed out on April 5 in Santa Monica Civic Auditorium.

College Board Has No Official View on Proposal

S. J. Kryzsko, State College Board resident director here, declined to comment this morning on a proposed bill that would place all public higher education under the university board of regents.

He said it would not be appropriate for him to comment before the State College Board considers the matter and arrives at an official position.

THE BILL WAS one of two higher education proposals submitted to the legislature by State Sen. Robert Dunlap, Rochester, conservative. It was backed Tuesday by University of Minnesota President O. Meredith Wilson, who called it "one logical solution to the state's search for coordination."

Kryzsko pointed out, however, that Rep. Donald McLeod, Winona County conservative, said at Saturday's legislative luncheon here that consolidation of higher education facilities under a "super board" would result in a relatively weak administrative body with professional educators in charge.

The director also said that the legislators present Saturday expressed the opinion that a bill such as Sen. Dunlap's had no chance of passage.

Sen. Dunlap himself seemed to recognize this when he introduced the bill in question. At the same time, he introduced a bill that would authorize establishment of a state department of higher education under a commissioner named by the governor.

HE CALLED the "super board" bill an "ideal" arrangement, but acknowledged that it may not be "politically practical."

Kryzsko called the State College Board "able and capable," and he asserted that it is "a very strong board." It is doing a good job, he declared.

Critics of Sen. Dunlap's proposal to put all higher education under the regents contend that it would weaken local control of state colleges.

Dr. Wilson of the university, however, argued Tuesday that the colleges could retain their own identity if managed by the regents, much as do university branches at Duluth and Morris.

WABASHA, Minn. (Special) — Wabasha County Legionnaires endorsed Ernest Diederich of Austin for state commander at their meeting here Monday night.

About 55 from six posts of the eight posts in the county attended. Millville and Hammond representatives were absent.

Herman is chairman of the nominating committee for officers to be elected at the next county meeting at Mareppa May 10. District Commander Ralph Hughes, St. Charles, recognized the Elgin post for receiving the state "buckle down" trophy.

Each unit is to have two names at the May 10 council meeting to submit as candidates for office. The auxiliary donated $3 toward the department president's project for Legionville.

3 Injured in Badger Fires

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Three persons were burned, two critically, as fires in widely separated areas of Wisconsin destroyed or damaged several buildings Tuesday night and early today.

Herbert Radke, 65, who lived in a room above a Milwaukee tavern, suffered burns over 65 per cent of his body early today when fire broke out in his room. A neighbor found him with his clothing ablaze. He was reported in critical condition in a Milwaukee hospital. Damage to the building was estimated at $3,500.

Mr. and Mrs. Payson McLaine, both 58, of Milwaukee sustained burns when bedclothes in their apartment caught fire Tuesday night. McLaine was reported in serious condition. Mrs. McLaine was not burned seriously. Damage was estimated at $200.

The causes of the blazes were undetermined.

The Broadway Bowl, a 12 lane bowling establishment in Green Bay, was destroyed by a fire which was discovered around 3:30 a.m. today. Flames had broken through the roof of the single story, concrete block structure by the time firemen arrived. Jack Grebel, the owner, estimated loss in excess of $200,000. Residents of an adjoining hotel were awakened but were not evacuated.

The American Legion clubhouse and bar at Spring Green, in Sauk County, went up in flames in a fire reported at 2:20 this morning. The establishment was not opened Tuesday. Other loss included equipment and uniforms and rifles belonging to the organization.

Flames destroyed a large barn and some 8,000 chicks at the Fink poultry and egg farm just outside the Kenosha city limits. The owners estimated loss would reach $50,000. The Pleasant Prairie volunteer fire department was aided by a unit from Somers and a rig from Kenosha. The flames were discovered around 1 a.m. today.

A large metal turkey shed on the Marathon County farm of William P. Weis was destroyed by fire Tuesday night, only a few hours before Weis was to receive about 10,000 young birds.

Destroyed with the 144 by 80 foot single story building were two tractors and an auto parked in it. Damage was estimated unofficially at a minimum of $20,000.

Firemen from Stratford and Marshfield, about nine miles to the south, battled the flames and kept them from spreading to the Weis home and a barn.

Defense Dept. Tightens Up On Laos News

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department seems to be trying to tighten secrecy around U.S. air operations against the Communists in Laos.

It took four days, with considerable prodding from newsmen, for the Pentagon to acknowledge Tuesday that Air Force Maj. Robert F. Ronca, 41, of Norristown, Pa., had been lost over Laos "on a routine mission."

This was in marked contrast to the handling of past incidents in Laos since this country's Navy and Air Force jets started last May to conduct reconnaissance and strike operations against requisitions and supply-reinforcement routes in Laos.

Jan. 13, Asst. Secretary of Defense Arthur Sylvester volunteered the information that an F100 and an F105, both Air Force fighter bombers, had been shot down in central Laos by ground fire.

Nov. 21, the Defense Department put out an announcement that an RF101 reconnaissance plane had been shot down, also by ground fire, in southern to south central Laos.

Nov. 18, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara wound up a news conference on base closings with a surprise announcement that an F100 had been downed by ground fire in roughly that same part of Laos "while escorting one of our reconnaissance aircraft."

In all, seven U.S. Navy and Air Force jets have been identified officially as downed in Laos since U.S. air operations began over that vital Southeast Asian country. Five of the seven pilots were rescued. The other two, including Ronca, were killed. Their bodies were recovered.

Better Confess To This Redhead

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Boy, am I a dope! This morning I opened my glove compartment to get something, and I saw the bundle of Christmas cards I had promised my wife I would mail a few days before Christmas. They were all stamped and addressed. Should I drop them in the mailbox now or not? Should I tell my wife I forgot to mail them and take the consequences? She doesn't have red hair for nothing.

PLUM FORGOT

DEAR PLUM: Don't mail them now or your friends will think you are rushing the season for 1965. Get yourself a crash helmet and a nose guard and tell your red-head the awful truth.

DEAR ABBY: On one of my husband's recent trips, he purchased a painting of a nude woman. When he brought it home, he explained that it was a very "good" painting. I told him I didn't have any doubt about how "good" it was, but I didn't want it hanging in my home. I since have asked several of our friends how they felt about the painting and the majority of them said they saw nothing offensive about it. I still feel, however, that I would be embarrassed if certain friends visited us and saw that painting. My husband says that as long as WE like it, we should not worry about people who might be offended. What is your opinion?

GLENDAL

DEAR GLENDAL: Don't shift the blame to "certain friends." When you first saw the painting you said you didn't want it hanging in your home. Apparently YOU were offended. You and your husband share the same home and should hang paintings you both enjoy.

DEAR ABBY: After a hectic day in my beauty salon I was ready to put up this sign, "NO CHILDREN ALLOWED." They nearly wrecked my place, and me with it. I called my sister, who is very good at writing poems, and asked her if she would write something for me to post in the shop. I thought others might appreciate it:

"BLESS THE LITTLE CHILDREN,
WE LOVE THEM LIKE OUR OWN.
NOTHING COULD BE SWEETER
WHEN THEY ARE LEFT AT HOME.

"WHILE WORKING ON THEIR MOTHERS
IT'S MORE THAN WE CAN STAND
TO HAVE THE LITTLE CHERUBS
GET WILDLY OUT OF HAND.

"SO PLEASE CALL UP A SITTER
AND GIVE YOURSELVES A TREAT
AND WE WILL BE SO GRATEFUL
WE MAY EVEN KISS YOUR FEET."

Dr. M. R. Raymond, academic dean, said that courses for elementary and secondary teachers will be offered on both the undergraduate and graduate levels.

Dates for the sessions are: June 14 to July 16, and July 19 to Aug. 20. Total summer session enrollment in 1964 was about 2,036.

A seminar in elementary education and a tour are highlights of the first session. Experts already named for the elementary education seminar are: Dr. Ila Podendorf, professor of education at the University of Chicago; Dr. Mildred Ballou, Ball State Teachers, Muncie, Ind.; and Dr. Thomas Rillo, director of the outdoor education center at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale.

The three-week tour, beginning June 21, will be into South-eastern United States, including New Orleans, Vicksburg and Florida. Stops also will be made in Williamsburg, Washington, D.C. (4 days), Philadelphia, New York City (3 days), Niagara, Dearborn and Greenfield Village.

In the second session three courses will be offered as part of the elementary school science institute. They are: Modern Science I, emphasizing the physical properties of matter and related problems; Modern Science

China, U.S. Envoys Meet At Warsaw

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Ambassadors of Communist China and the United States met today in a session that diplomats here said could influence the crisis in Southeast Asia.

U.S. Ambassador John Moors Cabot and Chinese envoy Wang Kuo-chuan came face to face in the 126th meeting of the ambassadorial talks that began in 1955 in Geneva. It was their first session since Nov. 25 last year.

The American and Chinese embassies in Warsaw have an agreement to maintain strict secrecy about the talks.

II, emphasizing chemical properties, and Science Education Seminar, involving integration of learning in the sciences with a view of providing meaningful science experiences for elementary children. Students are urged to enroll for all nine credits.

In the second session these six workshops will be offered: Conservation, Whitewater State Park, July 25-31; Physical Education for Elementary Teachers, July 19-24; Aerospace Education, July 19-24.

Modern Mathematics for Elementary Teachers, July 19-23; Earth Science for Elementary and Junior High Teachers, July 19-24.

Reading, July 19-24. Courses will be offered in teaching of the mentally retarded and in guidance. In the first session a reading practicum will be available to 12 students. Courses in special areas include: Driver education, coaching, special education, mentally retarded and remedial reading.

Former Star Mary McLaren Weds Blind Vet

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "This is a marriage of mercy. I know it means a great deal to him to feel he has someone who wishes to be with him always."

With this explanation, silent screen star Mary McLaren was led Tuesday to blind, crippled World War I veteran Robert S. Coleman.

Coleman, 65, a former lion tamer, "is an interesting man and companionable. He tells me he loves me dearly," said the onetime film star, now 65 and silver-haired.

Steel Output At Capacity

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The nation's steel furnaces are the one big question mark in today's prosperous domestic economy. How long will they keep turning out record tonnage.

Will they be cooled down by a strike and if so, when? Or will production be slowed later in the year by overstocking by consumers now?

Steel shipments are rising. But so are new orders. Some mills report orders coming in faster than shipments can rise, so that delivery time is being stretched out. In a few instances there are allocations.

There is talk also of extending the labor contract past the May 1 cutoff date, while the factions of the United Steelworkers of America settle their leadership battle and heal the scars.

Some say this postponement of a possible strike would just encourage more inventory building by consumers, and therefore would mean a bigger letdown after a new labor contract is reached, by whatever means, in the summer or fall.

But many in the industry contend that the inventory buildup is more apparent than real. The metal is being used by manufacturers faster than they had anticipated. And the stockpiles are still skimpy in relation to current production.

It isn't just the steel mills that are being flooded with new orders. Many steel consuming factories also are reporting a big and growing backlog of unfilled orders that would keep them going at full speed for weeks and months ahead, and chewing up any steel stock they might have succeeded in accumulating.

If the economy in general maintains its sprightly pace during the rest of the year, as a growing number are now predicting, steel users will be wanting sizable amounts of the metal well after the May 1 deadline for a possible strike. An extension of the labor contract until union and management are in better position for serious negotiations wouldn't necessarily mean a sudden letdown in demand, as a few fear, or a continued buildup of excess inventory, as others contend.

Some steel users would still be eager to get shipments after May 1 for stockpiling. Even more would be likely to go on ordering in sizable amounts to meet their production needs.

AVOID SAGS

When painting a dresser or chest, remove the drawers and set them with drawer-fronts facing up, advises the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association. This will prevent the occurrence of enamel runs or sags.

Viet War From Bad to Worse

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — A new element, despair, may become the deciding factor for the United States in Viet Nam, a country beginning to look like a comic opera.

It has cost the United States hundreds of lives and billions of dollars to back South Viet Nam in the war against the Communist guerrillas ever since 1955 when the government there asked for help.

But that government, headed by President Ngo Dinh Diem, is gone and in the 16 months since he was assassinated there have been at least eight new governments.

They actually change hands over night, as they did in the past few days. Old leaders get bounced, new leaders take over. The new leaders become the old leaders, and they get bounced.

The changes haven't come from the people but from the ambitious generals whom Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Senate's Democratic leader, calls the "jealous generals."

Meanwhile, there's supposed to be a war going on against the guerrillas and the United States is standing by with men, guns and planes, waiting to get on with it.

While it waits, the United States can't duck the basic question: How can it get on with the war if the Vietnamese leaders are more taken with showing one another around than showing the guerrillas around?

The war has been going from bad to worse, steadily, and here there is divided opinion on what to do: step up the war against the Reds, don't step it up but just go on helping the South Vietnamese, or get out.

Unless the Vietnamese begin showing an earnest interest in preventing a Communist takeover, the reaction in this country almost inevitably will be despair that the Vietnamese can be helped or are worth helping.

In getting into this tight the United States has given a couple of reasons, one idealistic — to help the Vietnamese preserve their independence, and the other realistic — to prevent communism from taking over all Southeast Asia.

President Dwight D. Eisenbe rendered ridiculous if the Vietnamese show themselves incapable of orderly government and more concerned with factional disputes than saving themselves from communism.

And the realistic reason — using American forces to fight the guerrillas in Viet Nam — will look more and more like colonialism and aggression if the South Vietnamese themselves are indifferent about the Reds.

The more the chaos in South Viet Nam, therefore, the harder for the United States to justify before the world its continued presence in Viet Nam.

If a settlement is worked out with the Reds it can only mean an eventual Communist takeover if South Viet Nam disintegrates further and no real government is possible there.

attack against the forces of the United States and to prevent further aggression.

The resolution was approved on Aug. 7, just two days after a U.S. air raid on targets in North Viet Nam in retaliation for attacks by Communist PT boats on U.S. destroyers in the Gulf of Tonkin off Viet Nam.

The President does not want to get into specifics of military policy. He is mindful of the controversial 1950 speech in which Dean Acheson, then secretary of state, suggested South Korea was not considered vital to American security. This speech, perhaps coincidentally, was followed by the Communist invasion of South Korea.

Johnson recalls, too, the nation's self-imposed and self-proclaimed ban on the use of nuclear weapons in Korea, as well as its policy of avoiding military action against the Communist Chinese "sanctuary" in Manchuria.

The chief executive believes that whenever a nation signals to the rest of the world a refusal to employ all available military power, it has weakened not only its freedom of action militarily but its bargaining power at the conference table.

Johnson wants to avoid making any similar statements regarding Viet Nam, preferring to keep Hanoi and Peking guessing as to American intentions.

It was understood that former President Dwight D. Eisenhower strongly endorsed the idea that Johnson should not hamstring his freedom of action through public statements when the two men conferred at length on the Viet Nam situation last week.

Johnson, in a similar vein, has declined to get specific about settlement terms in the absence of any real and promi-ing negotiations. He has heard nothing to convince him the Communists are ready to talk and is reluctant to say he is ready if they are, lest the government of South Viet Nam interpret that as a sign the United States is eager to negotiate its interests down the river.

For the moment, to sum up, the President is biding his time, taking a tough stance, and, by saying little, trying to retain maximum flexibility of movement in both the military and diplomatic areas.

No Beaver Season
The river zone of the Mississippi River is closed to beaver and other trapping this spring. It includes "the portion of Minnesota lying south of Highway 10 and east of Highway 61 and Highway 25." This area includes all of the Upper Mississippi River Wild Life and Fish Refuge in Minnesota and other areas between Highway 61 and the river. A similar order has been issued for Wisconsin, closing the river zone in that state.

Otherwise Minnesota has a beaver season from March 13 to April 26 with a season limit of ten. In addition to the refuge, there are a number of other closed areas in the state. The other season is limited to Northern Minnesota.

Deer Yarding Up

Deer are yarding up along the North Shore where the snow depth now exceeds 18 inches. Records collected over the past 19 years show that deer will begin to starve if snow remains 18 inches or deeper for 12 weeks or longer. Parts of the Lake Superior wintering areas have had this much snow or more ever since Christmas.

Game managers are keeping a close watch on conditions since heaviest snowfall usually occurs in late February. It is planned, if necessary, to use crews of youth laborers employed under the new anti-poverty program to cut browse in critical deer yards to provide immediate food and also to improve the yards for future use.

Wisconsin already has launched an extensive deer feeding program in its heavy deer yards in the central and northern parts of the state. A heavy loss through starvation is feared.

Here and There

Results of the recently completed 1964-65 winter moose census in the Red Lake area and Superior National Forest by the Minnesota Game and Fish Division show the moose population in these areas is holding at the five year level of about 7,000 animals.

The aerial counts have been flown each year since the winter of 1959 and indicate that the state moose herd in the two sample areas has remained relatively stable during the past five years. The population estimate is based on an 8,600 square mile sample of the 15,000 square miles in the "primary" moose range.

Roger Preuss of Minneapolis has been named state chairman to direct the 1965 National Wildlife Week observance in Minnesota for the Minnesota Conservation Federation, which joins with the National Wildlife Federation in sponsoring this annual conservation, education project during the period of March 14-20, and throughout 1965.

The Tri-State Hunting Dog Association will hold a winter trial Sunday on Prairie Island. Derby and open-all-age stakes start at 8:30 a.m. followed by the qualifying and puppy events. All stakes will be land events.

The Fish and Wildlife Service is using birth control in its war in the west against coyotes. The chemical stilbestrol, a synthetic female hormone, is used in a bait fed to coyotes during their breeding season. Female coyotes who eat the bait do not become pregnant.

Non-resident Tuition Cut Urged in State

ST. PAUL (AP) — Two bills aimed at lowering non-resident tuition barriers within and without the state were referred to a subcommittee after a first airing Tuesday in the House Committee on State and Junior Colleges.

Rep. Wendell O. Erickson, was named chairman of the subcommittee.

Neither bill would involve the University of Minnesota. Both would provide that non-residents could attend state colleges at the Minnesota student rate if their home states did likewise.

One bill, by Rep. Clinton Hall, Rushford, would handle this by a statute with a similar law necessary in any state which wanted its youth to avoid non-resident fees in Minnesota.

A second bill, by Rep. Douglas Sillers, Moorhead, would permit the State College Board to negotiate such agreements under the

Newman Planning For Mardi Gras

The Newman Club will hold a Mardi Gras at the Newman Center of Winona State College Thursday from 7 to 11 p.m. It precedes the beginning of Lent March 3.

Card games and various other games of chance are on the program as is a dance. Candy, cake, popcorn and refreshments will be sold. Students and faculty are invited to attend.

Bemidji Man Dead in Blast

BEMIDJI, Minn. (AP)—A 73-year-old man who lived alone—William Berg—was killed Tuesday night in an explosion that destroyed his cabin home on Lake Andrusa, some 15 miles east of Bemidji.

Cause of the explosion was not known. There were no witnesses, but neighbors said they believed Berg was planning to shut down the cabin and go South for the remainder of winter.

"common market for education" plan now being discussed in the Midwest.

Hall said removal of non-resident tuition would be particularly helpful in southeastern Minnesota where many students would like to attend La Crosse State and where many Wisconsinites attend Winona State.

Several members of the parent committee questioned the possible loss of tuition income to the five Minnesota state colleges.

Hall said college administrators like to have non-resident students "to rub elbows" with Minnesotaans and provide more diverse viewpoints.

Party Bill Put Back To Sleep

ST. PAUL (AP) — The party designation bill was revived Tuesday, but quickly put back to sleep.

The proposal, by Sen. Nicholas Coleman, St. Paul Liberal, would have legislators run on party tickets. The Legislature has been nonpartisan for 50 years.

Last week the Senate Elections Committee tabled the bill. This came close to killing it because a majority vote is needed to raise a tabled bill and a majority of the committee is against the bill.

Today the committee adopted Coleman's motion to take it from the table. But when he tried to move that it be recommended for passage, Sen. Norman Larson of Ada renewed his motion of last week that the bill be tabled.

The vote on the motion to table the bill again was 10-7.

Voting to table were Sens. Franklin Kroehler of Henderson, Robert Dunlap of Plainville, Walter Franz of Mountain Lake, Mel Hansen of Minneapolis, J.A. Josefson of Minnesota, Larson, John McKee of Bemidji, Harvendale Maruska of Angus, Gordon Rosenmeier of Little Falls and Donald Sinclair of Stephen. All are Conservatives.

Voting against the motion to table were Sens. C.J. Benson of Ortonville, Coleman, Eugene Knudsen of Kandiyohi, R.V. Perich of Hibbing and Raphael Salmore of Stillwater, all Liberals, and Alf Bergerud of Edina and Harmon Ogdahl of Minneapolis, both Conservatives.

Improved Appearance Urged for Model Boat

Chamber of Commerce officials told the Park-Recreation Board Monday that they will try to improve the appearance of the model steamboat at the Huff Street - Highway 61 intersection.

Dr. C. A. Rohrer, board president, told Chamber tourist committee members that a lease giving permission to mount the boat on park property had expired. Some board members, he said, were "not too happy" with the promotion device's appearance. Last fall, he recalled, Dr. Lewis Younger, Winona County Historical Society president, had asked the board to approve plans for additional protection of the boat against vandalism. The society is interested because the boat is used to advertise its downtown steamboat museum.

DONALD STONE, Chamber manager, said the tourist committee hoped to renew the lease and that he and other members did not realize the lease existed until recently. Although removal of the boat had been suggested, Stone said this should not be done because of its uniqueness and the wide interest it arouses among tourists. It is, he said, one of "the high points on the newly-established Hiawatha Trail."

Edward M. Allen, who said frankly that he favors removal of the boat, told Stone the Chamber is committed to furnish plantings at the site but has not done so. Dr. Younger had asked for protective fencing, he said, but this would complicate mowing problems, in his opinion, and no plans for the fence had been submitted for board approval in any event.

Overhead cable to night lights on the boat is "unattractive," Allen charged, and the four poles on which it is mounted also are unsightly. A new and lower base, perhaps of Winona stone, should be built and underground wiring provided, he proposed.

JAMES SWEAZEY, tourist committee chairman, said there is no money in the current budget for such expenditures. He estimated the cost of underground

Board Asking Recreation Major at WSC

Park-Recreation Board members voted Monday to ask Winona State College to add a recreation major to its program of offerings for physical education students.

Dr. C. A. Rohrer, board president, recommended introduction of the resolution addressed to the college's curriculum cabinet. The resolution text also offers full cooperation of the park-recreation department as a means of giving students practical instruction.

THE IDEA has been under discussion for some time, Dr. Rohrer said. Winona State has lost students to other state colleges which offer such majors, he told board members.

"Our department has an outstanding recreation program, thanks to M. J. Bambenek," said Dr. Rohrer. "and I hate to see youngsters leave town for other colleges when these facilities could be put to good use for training purposes."

Present at the meeting was Dr. Luther McCown, chairman of the WSC health and physical education division. He asked for and received assurance that charges for use of Gabrych Park by the college would not be raised this year. Dr. McCown said he hoped charges would not be hiked to make up for concessions the board may grant to a newly formed Class A baseball league which hopes to use the park this year.

BOARD MEMBERS said charges to the college would remain the same. These are $25 for a single game and $30 for a doubleheader. Games are played in daylight hours and are scheduled for Gabrych when conditions make it impractical to use the college's Loughrey Field, McCown said.

He said funds come from student activity fees and therefore are limited.

Cardinal Cushing's Doctors Optimistic
-BOSTON (AP) — Physicians attending Richard Cardinal Cushing, Roman Catholic archbishop of Boston, have expressed satisfaction and optimism over his recovery from major abdominal surgery despite a slight setback in his condition.

The 69-year-old prelate's recovery has been retarded by an asthmatic condition, according to a bulletin issued Tuesday by the chancery office.

A section of the cardinal's intestine was removed in a 3½ hour operation Saturday. The section contained a growth known as polyps.

Rise in Badger Debt Limit Asked

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — A figure of $500 million has been proposed by Assemblyman Harold V. Froehlich, R-Appleton, as a starting point for raising the state debt limit.

In a public hearing on a proposed constitutional amendment before the Assembly Judiciary Committee, Froehlich said there was no "rhyme or reason" for setting that particular amount.

The important thing for the Legislature to do was to raise the debt limit, he said.

Another Appleton resident, Tom Hollenback, a spokesman for a local tax organization, spoke against the resolution. It would require approval by two consecutive legislatures and a referendum before being effected.

The state debt now exceeds the $100,000 limit set by the 1848 Constitution.

Seven Candidates In Cochrane-FC

COCHRANE-FC, Wis. (Special) — Seven candidates filed for the Cochrane-Fountain City school board by the deadline Monday, according to Clerk Kermit Spieth.

They included the three incumbents, Lloyd E. Haeuser, Fountain City; Norbert Litscher, Town of Cross, and Spieth, Cochrane, plus Mrs. James (Edna) Groves, Mrs. Ray (Arletta) Jurasinski and Thomas J. Kline, rural Fountain City, and Robert Koonitz, Cochrane. Mrs. Jurasinski withdrew this morning.

Curvis Rips Ortega in 10-Rounder

LONDON (AP) — Brian Curvis, British welterweight champion set his sights today again on the world title after decisively outpointing New York-based Gaspar Ortega of Mexico in 10 rounds at London's Royal Albert Hall Tuesday night.

Curvis said: "I hope next to meet world-ranked Willie Ludick of South Africa in Johannesburg, and if that goes well we'll have another crack at world champion Emile Griffith of New York."

Curvis went 15 rounds in a title fight with Griffith in London last September but was outpointed and outclassed.

Curvis, third-ranked challenger found Ortega a hard man to hit.

"I expected a man with a wealth of experience but I found Ortega a completely negative fighter," Curvis said.

Ortega said: "Curvis is the best fighter in Europe. He hits with precision and is a very strong boy. I had no argument with the decision."

Badgers Break 5-Game Loss String in Overtime

MADISON (AP) — The University of Wisconsin basketball team has discovered what it takes to win in the Big Ten overtime.

The Badgers claimed their second victory in 10 conference starts Tuesday night by jamming in 10 straight points in an overtime period to defeat Northwestern 93-87.

The triumph broke a five-game conference losing streak for the Badgers and hauled them into an eight-place tie with Northwestern, loser of its last six league games.

The teams swapped the lead throughout the game and the Badgers had to battle back to pull into a 37-37 halftime tie and an 83-83 deadlock at the end of regulation play.

Each time the Badgers needed something badly it was supplied by one or the other of the guards Jim Bohon or Paul Morenz. A pair of baskets and two free throws by Bohon enabled Wisconsin to end the first half at least in a tie. A long swisher by Morenz with 18 seconds left sent the game into overtime.

The Badgers spotted Northwestern four quick points early in the overtime on a pair of baskets by Walt Tiberti. But as it turned out that was all the Wildcats got as the Badger defense became unbeatable and the attack produced 10 straight points.

Morenz banged in another long shot and Bohon dropped a pair of free throws to tie the score again. Forwards Ken Barnes and Dave Roberts chipped in with field goals and free throws by Morenz and Barnes established the final margin.

Bohon, a 6-foot-10 senior, hit his Badger scoring peak by pouring in 25 points. He had been joined in the starting lineup by Dennis Sweeney, who fouled out after getting six points. Morenz replaced Sweeney and added 13 points, to give the three Badger guards a total of 44 points.

Barnes and Ken Gustafson added a dozen each and Mark Zubor contributed 10 as the Badgers got some balance into their attack.

Jim Burns was high for the Wildcats with 23 points before fouling out.

The victory assured the Badgers of a better record than their 7-17 over-state of a year ago. They are now 8-12 with four games remaining. They make their next start Saturday by entertaining last-place Michigan State.

WEST SALEM 74 ONALASKA 73

It took the last six seconds of an overtime period for West Salem to clip Onalaska 74-73.

After a regulation game tie of 65-65 following Onalaska's Tom Evert's free throw to tie it with just five seconds left, the contest was pushed into an extra period.

With just six seconds left in the overtime, Onalaska missed a one-and-one free throw situation and West Salem got the ball and quickly moved it down court, where Dave Schroeder flipped in a last second shot from 30 feet to give the Panthers the victory.

Harry Griswald totaled 23, Schroeder and Dean Bussan 17 each and Ken Horstman ten for West Salem, while Evert had 23, Bob Berg 16 and Jim Kowal 11 for Onalaska.

In the "B" game, West Salem took a 48-44 decision.

Jucker resigned Tuesday as head coach, saying he did so because of family and health reasons. University of Cincinnati President Walter C. Langsam announced he will be succeeded by Taylor (Tay) Baker, Jucker's assistant since 1960. The resignation goes into effect with the end of the season.

Mat Tournaments Slated For Arcadia and Osseo

ARCADIA, Wis. — Tomah ranks as the team favorite as the countdown to the WIAA regional wrestling tournament to be held at the high school here nears.

Arcadia Coach Jim Crowley ranks the Indian delegation as "very strong."

THE COMPETITION opens at 6 p.m. Thursday following weigh-ins at 3:45 p.m., and a coaches meeting at 4:30. Quarterfinals take the mats at 7:30 p.m. with the tournament winding up with semifinal rounds at 2 p.m. Saturday and finals at 7 o'clock. The wrestlingbacks follow the finals.

Points will be awarded on a ten, seven, four and two basis for individual placings with one point awarded for advancement and one point for a pin. There will be no advancement points scored in championship and runner-up divisions.

TEAMS ENTERED in the tournament in addition to Arcadia are Back River Falls, Blair, Cochrane - Fountain City, Independence, Sparta, Tomah, Whitehall and Alma Center Lincoln.

The first- and second-place finishers in each division will advance to the Reedsburg Sectional tournament March 5-6. Crowley rates Tomah the team to beat because of Tom Shie and Jim Jefferson, stand-out performers at 165 and heavyweight.

From Arcadia, Ray Waletzko at 133 and Ernie Halverson at 165 stand top chances for championships as do Ron and Roger Wojchik from Cochrane-Fountain City. Whitehall heavyweight Tiny Thompson, Blair 127-pounder Steve Kittleson, Independence's 95-pounder Jerome Olson, who went to the sectional last year, and Alma Center's Bob Cherry at 103.

OSSEO HIGH School also will host a regional mat tournament Friday and Saturday with nine teams entered in Eau Claire Memorial, Greenwood, Loyal, Augusta, Mondovi, Neillsville, Eau Claire North, Fall Creek and Osseo.

Opening bouts are scheduled for 7 p.m. Friday with the semifinals Saturday at 3 p.m. and the finals at 7 p.m.

First- and second-place winners advance to the Owen-Whitsee sectional March 5.

Finley Says Yankee Deal Is Not Good

WASHINGTON (AP) — Charles O. Finley, owner-president of the Kansas City Athletics, invited federal action today to nullify the sale of the New York Yankees to the Columbia Broadcasting System.

He told the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee in prepared testimony he fears the CBS-Yankee deal may herald a big-business "invasion" of professional sports, with the players and fans the ultimate losers.

TUESDAY'S RESULT
Wabasha 164, Randolph 45.

WABASHA, Minn. — You might say that Tuesday was a good night for Wabasha's Indians and Coach Chuck Karger. Karger, in his second season as Indian coach, led his team to a 104-63 victory over Randolph. It was the first time ever for a Wabasha team over 100 points.

The win gave Wabasha and Karger their first Centennial Conference title in 20 years, ending several years of Goodhue dominance.

The win also gave the Indians, who Karger said stated before the game that "we're going to go over 100 points tonight," a 14-1 record, warming up for Lewiston in the Plainview tournament Tuesday.

Jim Burkhardt and Jack Kane each tallied 20 points for Wabasha, while Dennis Iversen and Pete Ekstrand contributed 10 each and John Reinhardt 14.

Don Pressnal had 28 and Bob Sathre 18 for Randolph, which also lost the "B" game 55-46.

CHAMPIONS... Allen Goetzman poses with his quarter horse gelding, Baldy He Wolf. The horse topped the nation's 1964 show circuit to be named the honor roll western pleasure gelding.

National Honors For Winona Horse

Allen Goetzman, 751 E. King St., was notified by the American Quarter Horse Association, Amarillo, Texas, that his quarter horse gelding, Baldy He Wolf, topped the nation's 1964 show circuit to be named the Honor Roll Western Pleasure Gelding.

In so doing, Baldy He Wolf became the first two-year-old horse to achieve such an honor. He won his title by placing in 18 of 32 approved quarter horse shows in Minnesota and Wisconsin, defeating an estimated field of 7,500 registered geldings.

Baldy won six firsts, six seconds, two thirds, two fourths, one fifth and a sixth to earn a total of 31½ points. Points are awarded by the AQHA on a graduated scale with 3 points being awarded for a first place down to ½ point for a sixth, depending upon the total number of entrants in the class.

A western pleasure class is judged on the smoothness of gait, response to the rider's cues, and overall conformation and appearance.

Goetzman purchased the horse as an unbroken two-year-old from Mr. and Mrs. Vern Dale, Olathe, Kan., and trained the horse. Baldy earned his first two western pleasure points in April at the Austin, Minn., show and wound up his pacesetter campaign at Madison, Wis., in September.

During this time he also accumulated nine points in halter classes, won the all-around trophy at Eau Claire, Wis., and was named to one grand championship and a reserve grand championship in the halter division.

Baldy He Wolf was also honored as the Wisconsin out-of-state champion by the Wisconsin Quarter Horse Association; tri-state junior registered western pleasure champion by the Tri-State Horseman's Association; and the reserve champion one-two-year-old halter gelding by the Minnesota Quarter Horse Association.

The AQHA also announced the nation's leading pleasure horse and honor roll western pleasure mare as Jo Ellen Dun, owned by Pleasant Valley Farms, Gallatin, Ohio; and Cass Bars owned by Constantine Ferrante, Whitehouse Station, N.J., as the honor roll western pleasure stallion for the 1964 show season.

Goetzman, 25, is an English and art teacher at Trempealeau, Wis. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Goetzman.

LOST TO VILLANOVA

Friar's Unbeaten Hopes Evaporate

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The bomb never went off, but you can't convince Providence it wasn't a victim of fallout.

The fourth-ranked Friars fell from their spot as the nation's only unbeaten major team Tuesday night, losing 71-57 to Villanova after winning 19 games.

The fallout, in fact, reached as far as College Park, Md., about 100 miles away, where Maryland edged fifth-ranked Duke 85-82. Michigan's top-ranked Wolverines survived the attack, whipping Minnesota 91-78 at Minneapolis.

Providence, whose last previous loss was to Villanova in last season's NCAA playoffs, met the Wildcats on their home floor in the Philadelphia suburb of Villanova.

That's about 15 miles from the Palestra, where only last Saturday night a bomb threat emptied the stands and delayed the St. Joseph's-Villanova game for 25 minutes. No bomb was found, the teams returned for the second half and St. Joseph's won.

Moving to their own gym, the Wildcats exploded Providence's hopes for its first undefeated season. Villanova saw a seven-point lead late in the first half dwindle to one at intermission, but then erupted in the second half for the triumph.

Duke, now 18-3, had won 10 straight games and hadn't lost to Maryland in five years before the hustling Terps started to work. They grabbed a 46-28 halftime lead, but the Blue Devils rallied behind a full-court press and sliced their deficit to 22-69. That was as close as they could get, however.

The night's high score was a 148-79 Miami, Fla., victory over Rollins. Rick Barry of Miami, the nation's leading scorer, poured in 59 points. The nation's small college leader, Evansville, drubbed Indiana State 112-84 for a 23rd victory without a loss.

GRID BOLD HEADLINES (CLEVELAND, AP) — The Green Bay Packers, Detroit Lions and New York Giants return to Municipal Stadium Sept. 4 for the Cleveland Browns' fourth annual pro football doubleheader.
